men, Herbert Repsold has won the hearts of many maidens, and according to letters found among his effects, was engaged at the time of his arrest to two girls, each of whom hoped to wed him in the near future. When advised yesterday of her fiancé's arrest, Miss Margaret Schubert fainted, and her mother became almost hysterical.

"They were to have been married soon," said Mrs. Schubert. "If he is bad, thank God it was found out now instead of afterward."

Evidence that the robberies in Sacramento are not the first of which young Repsold has been guilty is found in letters to Margaret, at Point Richmond, for she urges him to get rid of certain things which he has, and never to take any more.

WOLVES KILLING MEN.
NEW ALASKA DANGER.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SEATTLE Jan. 10.—Several residents of the west coast of Prince of Wales island, southeastern Alaska, have been killed and eaten by wolves during the past year, according to Charles A. Sulzer, a brother of Congressman Sulzer, of New York, who has just returned from the north. Mr. Sulzer says the wolves, having killed off all the deer, now come right up to the doors of cabins, so that no man is safe away from shelter.

WIFE DESERTER ARRESTED.
Ohio Man Comes to Reno Seeking Divorce; Is Arrested on Felony Charge and Held for Extradition.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
RENO, Jan. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coming to Reno to seek a divorce, Albert Lewis of Hamilton county, Ohio, is facing extradition proceedings. He is held pending the action of Gov. Oddie, set for tomorrow, his wife having filed charges of desertion in the Ohio courts.

Lewis came to Reno nine months ago and on November 14 filed suit for divorce. Mrs. Lewis answered by appearing before the grand jury of Hamilton county, then in session, and charging her husband with leaving her without cause and without making any provision for her maintenance. An indictment was found.

About a month ago Sheriff Ferrell was asked to locate Lewis, which he did. Lewis at that time was conducting a restaurant in Douglas Alley.

Nothing further was heard from the Ohio authorities until last Wednesday, when the Sheriff received a telegram from Chief of Police Jackson of Cincinnati, requesting that Lewis be taken into custody. A little after noon of that day Sheriff Ferrell arrested Lewis.

Lewis's attorneys claim that he has regularly sent money for the support of his seven-year-old son, the remittances being made through a charitable organization known as the O. O. These letters, it is charged, were refused by Mrs. Lewis.

KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK.
TRAIN DITCHED NEAR RIVER.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
FRESNO, Jan. 10.—Fireman Jacob Brooks of this city is dead, Engineer Stokes is probably fatally injured and several others are severely hurt as the result of an accident on the Santa Fe Railroad, a few miles north of here at noon today.

Passenger train No. 5, leaving this place at 11:40 a.m. for San Francisco, took an open switch half a mile this side of the San Joaquin River. Engine, tender and baggage cars were crushed into a mass of twisted wreckage, and the passengers thrown in every direction.

Both Stokes and Brooks were buried in the wreckage. Rescuing automobiles and a special train rushed to the place. Brooks lost one of his feet and suffered internal injuries which were fatal.

Stokes was found in a pool of hot oil which had dripped from the tender.

TO REITER NATIONAL GUARD.
Adj.-Gen. Forbes Will Muster in Seven New Companies of Heavy Artillery at Some Early Date.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Adj.-Gen. Forbes, pursuant to his plan to build up the National Guard, announced today he would shortly muster in seven new companies of heavy coast artillery, and it is believed among these seven will be the San Francisco companies which were Adj.-Gen. Lauck put out of business.

Among the companies said to be slated for reinstatement are the California Grays, who clashed with Lauck when ordered to move their barracks. General Forbes is now considering this matter. As the government has furnished supplies for nine artillery companies and only two are in service, Gen. Forbes plans to utilize the full equipment by mustering in seven new companies.

In an order issued today, Forbes laid great stress on the need of good marksmen in the National Guard and says he proposes to establish rifle ranges for all the companies in the guard.

CHARITY TO A CAPITALIST.
Tender-Hearted San Francisco Waitress Feels "Angry" to Man She Believes "Up Against It."
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—"I know what it is to be stranded; I've been that way myself," said a waitress in a little delicatessen and lunch room yesterday, as she pressed a gift of 10 cents upon William Farrell, a white-haired man of plain garb.

The girl's pity had been aroused when Farrell had asked her what was the best way to walk to the city center.

"It's a pretty long walk," she said, mindful of his three score years and ten. "Here."

She laid a dime on the table and took the check for the man's lunch to the cashier, paying the amount out of her own pocket. Farrell protested she coaxed: "Please take it and don't make me feel bad."

She would not be persuaded that the old man was not in want. Finally he dropped the coin on the table and ran. Farrell is a retired capitalist, formerly a well-to-do architect of Tacoma. He is making a study of San Francisco buildings, traveling constantly on foot.

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE CASE.
Reno Courts Free Wife Whose Husband Created Scene When Baby Proved Daughter Instead of Son.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
RENO (Nev.) Jan. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most sensational divorce cases heard in Reno in many months was decided today in favor of Irene Sherwin, the petted daughter of wealthy Canadian parents, who married Abraham Sherwin, a well-to-do New York furrier, in March, 1909.

In May of last year Sherwin and his wife came West and his treatment of her, she said, was such that soon after reaching this city she was compelled to go to the hospital. When the baby, Etta Valore, was born and the husband learned three hours later that the child was a girl, he became enraged and created a scene in the room in which she lay in bed.

Judge Moran in granting the decree gave the child into the custody of her mother, and ordered that the father pay the sum of $100 a month for the daughter's support until she becomes 21 years of age or shall have married.

WIRELESS MAN DIVORCED.
NON-SUPPORT CHARGE.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
RENO (Nev.) Jan. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mabel C. Hall of New York was this evening granted a divorce from Albert Hall, promoter of wireless telegraph companies, now identified with the North American Wireless Corporation with offices in San Francisco.

The specific charge was non-support with desertion. They were married in New York February 25, 1900, and went to live in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Hall testified she had not received more than a few dollars from her husband during their married life. She frequently begged him to become connected with a regular job. "But he would not," she said, "and one day he was arrested and jailed for his connection with a company which he was trying to float."

OREGON INAUGURATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SALEM (Or.) Jan. 10.—Oswald West, Democrat, Governor of Oregon, was inaugurated today before the joint assembly of the Legislature. Frank W. Benson, retiring Governor, being in California, was represented by State Senator Jay Bowerman, who delivered a message attacking the Oregon Irrigation Commission, and accusing it of playing politics in taking the side of Gifford Pinchot in the Ballinger controversy.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

Y.M.C.A. Re-elects Seven men. Cut Out Big Task for the next Year.
Annual meeting of the Young Christian Association was held last night to hear the reports of the officers and to elect eight members to the board of directors.
A notable meeting, its attendance of 125 men being indicative of the interest in the work of the association. It is a fact, of all organizations, that there is a crowd for doing of a "hand" nature, but when it is difficult to get a sufficient of members to transact the business, the greatest work is done. The reports were full of praise and the crowd of men enthusiastic and appreciative of the work of their society.

It was shown that the association has about 2000 members, at one last year, to something over members at the present time, making the largest association in the city. From being the handler of a fund, it has developed into an association that has passed upwards of through its treasury during the year. The greatest work is done. The reports were full of praise and the crowd of men enthusiastic and appreciative of the work of their society.

San Diego. — Justice Puterbaugh in submitting his report to the City Council asks that a hospital be established for the cure of the habit of drinking.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 10.—City Justice Puterbaugh in submitting his report to the City Council asks that a hospital be established for the cure of the habit of drinking. The justice states that the rock pile is no cure for the habit.

After time," he says, "have I seen the rock pile and as of the expiration of their sentence they appeared before me on the charges. I see no other way than to establish a hospital for the cure of the habit of drinking. The justice states that the rock pile is no cure for the habit.

COUNTY RAIN SOAKED. — San Diego county is rain today. Farmers and city residents regard it as a blessing.

The twenty-four hours ending at midnight the precipitation was .12 inch. The seasonal rainfall is 11.11 inches against 7.77 inches for the same period last year. At Escondido, where there were fears of a famine because of the threat of drought, further fears are now allayed because a large section of the county is now under water.

ing on their honeymoon and are the guests of State Senator A. O. Garlock, father of the groom.

Young Garlock, who had reached that city Saturday afternoon, too late to catch the train for Escondido, and would be here on Monday. Garlock, senior, was at the depot expecting to meet only his bride, and was surprised to meet also his son and his bride. Garlock is assistant cashier in the Bank of Plover, Iowa, while McEwen is president of the State Savings Bank at Rolfe, Iowa. Garlock and his fiancée, Miss Leone Wiswell, of Monson, Iowa, went to Chicago to be married. McEwen and Miss Pae White of Rolfe accompanied them as witnesses, but afterward decided to be married themselves. After the double wedding, all unknown to their friends in Iowa, they immediately started on the honeymoon to California.

RAILROAD BUYS

COMPANY INVESTS.

Will Enlarge Plant and Work a Big Force of Men in Getting Out Rock for Its Own Use—Twenty-one Tons of Dynamite to Be Exploded.

CORONA, Jan. 10.—The Los Angeles Railway Company and the officers of the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company of Los Angeles organized under the name of the Corona Rock Company, have bought sixty-two acres of porphyritic rhyolite at Rolfe, formerly owned by the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company.

Under the new management the plant is being extensively enlarged. The Union Construction Company of Los Angeles is in charge of the work of installing new machinery. There are now sixty men at the quarry working in different capacities. The machinery being placed includes two No. 2 Gates breakers, one 24x36 and one 48x jaw breakers and a sixty-horse power gasoline engine to drive a five-drill Sullivan air compressor. The company's buildings, either completed or now under way, include a dining-room, a seating capacity for 150 men, office, stables, two bunk houses and two more to be built.

There are a number of storage pockets, but a foot tunnel will furnish the principal means of ground storage, with a daily capacity of 800 tons of crushed rock. The plant is to be completed in forty days and when in full operation from seventy-five to eighty men are to be employed. There is a spur extending to the plant, which is only forty yards from the main line of the Santa Fe. A tunnel is to be driven two hundred feet into a hill, which is to be blown up by placing twenty-one tons of dynamite in the tunnel. The charge will be in readiness to touch off some time in March and by the explosion a large quantity of porphyritic rhyolite, commonly known as porphyry, will be opened up with comparatively little labor. The output from this quarry will be taken by the Los Angeles Railway Company and the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company.

FOUR PLANTS BUSY. — The figures, 4150 tons, cover approximately the daily output of crushed rock that can be handled by Corona's four large rock-crushing plants and give something of an idea of what an enormous industry this business is to Corona. There has never been but one plant here for crushing rock until recently. Now three are under way and a fourth is soon to start installation of its plant. The Corona Rock Company, Phillips Contracting Company and a third company of Santa Barbara are soon to incorporate, all have their plants bordering on the Temescal wash. E. M. Wallitz's plant is in Lodi Canyon.

The call, Lemon Association is to build a 60x100-foot addition to the packing-house for storing twenty cars of lemons.

The Corona Home Telegraph and Telephone Company directors organized yesterday by re-electing W. H. Jameson, president; C. D. McNeil, vice-president; Dr. E. S. Willard, secretary; D. M. Brown, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Oakley, assistant secretary and manager.

Ten thousand feet of concrete pipe has already been made for Corona's new domestic water system.

The Pacific Clay Manufacturing Company, at a cost of $200,000, is having a spur built from the main line of the Santa Fe to its plant. The completion of the spur will make it possible for the company to receive its clay from Elsinore without any hauling.

Eighty or more men are out of work caused by the temporary shutting down of the plants of the Pacific Clay Manufacturing Company and the Corona Pressed Brick Company.

During last year the building permits issued represented an expenditure of $145,000, which is a gain of $30,000 over those of the previous year.

Rev. B. B. Jacques, for three years pastor of the First Baptist Church, preached his farewell sermon Sunday. Mrs. Mary C. Lovett, mother of Mr. Smith of Los Angeles and Mrs. Funk of Corona, is dead, aged 72. The funeral was held yesterday. Cerebral hemorrhage caused death.

ELSNORE. — ELSNORE, Jan. 10.—A steady, light rain with some hard rain fell throughout the night and it continues to drizzle this morning. Up to 7 a. m. .55 of an inch had fallen.

GIRL WANTS

Continued Rain Assures Section of a Profitable Season—Orange Growers Say Rain Does More Good Than It Had Fallen Earlier in the Season.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 10.—Luella Valentine, the 14-year-old girl of Ontario whose several months of high jinks with D. H. Akay has landed him under a sentence of twenty-five years in San Quentin, this morning brought action against him to recover damages in the sum of $10,000. The complaint recites the alleged injury done the complainant by her companion and lays stress upon the various elements in the case which brought a quick conviction of Akay.

Akay is still held in the County Jail while he settles up his affairs. He has deeded all his property to his wife and children and a Gypsy Collins, and today appears to be penniless. That the girl's attorney delayed until the last moment to bring the damage suit is said to have lost her any property of the defendant upon which she could collect any judgment rendered in her favor.

CROPS ASSURED.

Continued rain throughout the day assures this section of a profitable season. Orange growers believe that the rain, coming at this time, and in a gradual precipitation, has done more good for the future crop than had the rains fallen early in the winter. Grain men state they will begin as soon as the storm clears to sowing a winter crop. In many sections ranchers are preparing to put in hundreds of acres to potatoes. The rain has fallen gradually, every drop being taken in by the thirsty soil, and no damage has resulted in any quarters so far as general reports indicate.

RENEGADE HUNT.

The hunt for Queho, the Plute renegade, wanted for the murder of Dr. Charles Gilbert of this place and ex-Sheriff Woodward, is waiting up. Telegrams from the pursuing posse under the Nevada State police to Needles ask the authorities there to be on the lookout, as the fugitive was trailed yesterday to within twenty miles of that town. He was last seen six miles from Fort Mohave, Ariz. Until now no systematic effort has been made to run the fugitive to earth. His capture or death is looked for any hour now.

NO CLEW.

Deputy Sheriff George Hewins returned today from Needles, where he went to investigate the killing of Miss Myrtle Parker of Los Angeles last Friday night. The girl, who was a well-dressed stranger. That night he strangled her to death, after beating her over the head with a revolver. He then robbed the corpse of diamonds and money. He was seen by a Japanese and railroad officers. Though the officers have a description of the alleged murdered no trace of him can be obtained.

TANGLED WEB.

The ten acre grove at Highland avenue and G street, owned by Mrs. Harriet Doughty, is in a tangle owing to the claims of two agents to the right of sale. V. C. Dow has just recorded a transfer of an agreement of sale with Mrs. Doughty, the agreement being claimed by Mrs. Doughty has negotiations with another agency, and since coming from the east recently, has desired to repudiate the first agent's claim. Lawyers have been consulted, and a general tangle is the result.

The horse belonged to A. F. Mills, who left the animal standing in harness in front of William Mitchell's house. When Mills came out the horse was gone, the harness being piled in the buggy. In response to a telephone message, Sheriff Rudbeck and Deputy Jernigan went to Garden Grove in an automobile and took the trail. The tracks indicated that the horse was led behind the buggy, and that at times he held back stubbornly. The tracks were lost on West Fifth street. Frank Stewart,
New Assistant United States Attorney.

PROSECUTOR MOVES HIGHER.
Young Man Who Was Postal In-

Frank Stewart, who entered the United States Attorney's office here, about three years ago, as a deputy prosecutor, has been raised to a responsible position as first assistant under United States Attorney McCormick. He takes the place vacated by G. Ray Horton who returns to the District Attorney's office.

Stewart's rise as a prosecutor and government attorney has been a rapid one. He was formerly employed in the postoffice department in a subordinate position and by dint of faithful work became an inspector. Trans-turned from the North to the ideal head. He soon became known for his keen investigations of those who were literally using the mails. He secured a number of convictions in a number of grafting cases and unearthed the notorious Ollie Watkins orange-grove fraud, which resulted in indictments being found against a dozen defendants.

The Lovelock Valley is situated between the Trinity range on the west and the Humboldt range of mountains on the east, in Humboldt county, Nevada. It is on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railway, fifty-five miles east of Hazen, thereby bringing in direct touch with the Los Angeles markets on the completion of the new cut-off now being completed to Hazen, where it joins the main line. That portion of the valley now under cultivation now under irrigation on the completion of the enlarged irrigation system now in progress, comprises about 3,000 acres. Forty thousand acres are now in cultivation in a high state, making it already the richest irrigation district in the State of Nevada.

A concrete retaining dam is about completed which will store 70,000 acre feet of water, thereby bringing under irrigation another 30,000 acres of virgin soil. There is no richer or more pro-

Men have become rich from the products of this soil, and today some of

The weathered ranchers or the wheat are among the Lovelock ranchers. The soil is a black loam, running to the consistency of a rich peat in many places. Here alfalfa abounds, and wheat is extensively and profitably grown, the ranchers disposing of their product at the Lovelock Roller Mills. The land runs flows with hay, eleven cars of this produce being shipped by the business this season. Fifteen hundred cars of sheep and cattle are handled through the Lovelock office yearly for the markets, so that the Lovelock Valley is a busy tax claim point in the West for Pacific Coast points. Land values are at the present running from $100 to $150 per acre, with very little on the market. However, there will be an opportunity for homeseekers on the opening up of the new territory on the completion of the enlarged irrigation system. To say that irrigation costs less than a dollar per year per acre sounds ridiculous to the uninitiated, but such has been the experience of the ranchers in the Lovock Valley.

The climate is ideal. Situated 4000 feet above the sea level one does not experience the long term of summer heat found in valleys located nearer the level, so that living in Loloche is a pleasurable climatic experience. The mountains surrounding are rich in ore. These, like the valley, have never been boomed on the outside. Legitimate mining is successfully and consistently carried on. On the stock-jobbing feature.

The Seven Troughs Coalition is a still more extensively operated plant owned by local men. These plants ship regularly from Lovick, and are a contributing element to the town's growth and prosperity. On the east in the Spring Valley region is the Federal Mines Company operating successfully as a placer property.

HINT.
A United States Senator has been elected. If the audience will preserve absolute quiet the lesson given may be heard giving three cheers for the day the mortgage comes due on the new groves they have planted.

CHERRY SPOOK.
The name of the new police secretary augurs well for the future honesty of the department. No man, "Cyrus," could possibly be a designing devil. We used to have a similarly deep respect for the name Hiram; but we don't think so much of the Hiram as we did.

TRUE MEMOIRS.
In spite of all the punk jokes of the funny men, the fine fact remains that the humble cop with the numbered star on his breast is usually "there." In the whole history of our police force there is hardly one instance where a man has failed in courage no matter how severe the test. Percy Field, who was shot the other night by a bandit, was but one of a long line of unnamed heroes of the department.

A CHERY SPOOK.
In his lifetime, Ollie Watkins was so sick a scoundrel that the United States government seems to have a smacking suspicion that he will be able to hussy even death and reappear in our midst. The revivifying of the old indictments against him indicates that Uncle Sam suspects him of having fooled the devil. This precaution on the part of the government may not result in getting Ollie alive in the tolls again; but, wherever the shades of departed sicksters congregate, there is one very proud ghost.

HOLIDAY BOUNTY.
The Boston Elevated Railway Company gave each of its 3500 employees a gold piece on New Year's day. Some received $5, some $10, and some $20. In all $12,000 was distributed. Yet there are people who say that Yankers are mean and that corporations have no souls. In the olden golden days of the Comstock, Mackay and Sharon sent a holiday turkey with trimmings to every married man working on the lode, and the widows of miners who had been killed in the mines received a substantial money gift. Mackay, as a Christmas joke, sent $100 to each of three widows "with the compliments of William Sharon." The next day Sharon was amazed at receiving the thanks of the grateful beneficiaries, and for a week afterwards widows thronged his office and were asked by the dozen on the stairs leading to it.

SAXON PROGRESS.
A Chicago company, with a capital of one hundred millions of dollars, is asking the Council of that city for a franchise to construct a complete system of passenger and freight subways, a complete outer harbor and an extensive system of docks and warehouses. It is not forty years since Chicago was swept clean by fire. When Carthage was destroyed at the mandate of Hannibal, Carthage went out of existence for all time. The Rome of today is not so populous as was the Rome of the Caesars, and the great edifices of their day have never been restored. It is not four years since San Francisco was reduced to ashes, and today the Bay City is nearly rebuilt, and will still advance with rapid strides if the closed shop laborites will let their clutch from her throat and their fetters from her feet. The Latin languages while the Bronx pushes forward. It will be a long time before Macaulay's New Zealand will catch fish from the ruined arches of a London bridge.

DO THEY HIDE?
In one respect Los Angeles is like a lady wearing a heavy veil. The city is full of beautiful girls and yet it requires the stress of shopping through attendant upon holiday trade or the laughing crushes of people on an occasion like Pasadena's feast of roses to bring the lovely young womanhood of Los Angeles under public gaze. There is perhaps no city in the world of its size where there are more pretty girls than here, and there is certainly none where Sweet Sixteen is more strictly chaperoned. When the young women step from their automobiles, carriages or street cars directly into the stores where they have business and a few minutes later the waiting vehicles return them to their homes. In the theaters, churches and sweet shops one always sees numberless pretty girls, but it is a fact that not many of these are to be met upon a sidewalk. That gay and busy thoroughfare is always thronged with handsome women who are beautifully groomed, but it requires sharp eyes, indeed, to find among these delightful matrons many young women under twenty.

RAIN ON THE ROOF.
At last our ears have been gladdened and our sleeping senses lulled to sleep in the night by the rain on the gables. Some of us have known days of "wilded" sheltered by houses with joists revealed and rafters bare, so that only the thin shingled roof showed up against sunlight, moonbeams or rain. In some days the melody of falling drops held the senses of exultation in the sunny glow, of violets in deep woods, and wild rose petals kissing baby pools. It told of wild grape perfume where ferns are cool, of snowy dogwood blossoms on the hills and honeysuckle bordering red lanes. Within the cosy comfort of the home we knew the rain drops then for children of the clouds. They are the little fairies of the skies and when we heard them dancing on the roof we knew that they had come to bring the fields the tiger lilies and the wildflowers. We are grown-up children now and smother's rain calls upon the slopes of long ago. The old man is sleeping in the grave, and the old woman, like tears, is falling on the graves of childhood's flowers. We are grown-up children now living in a land where the skies are always smiling and the grass is always green. Again the blessed rain is falling and its drops are tears of joy. They are come with benediction for the world of growing things.

Well, well, it was good to have been a child and it is good to be grown up. And the rain is welcome, not alone for its blessing to the soil, but like an old friend who was a playmate of our childhood in the time we used to know.

Death and politics are making fast inroads into the Republican strength of the Senate. That body is likely to become Democratic sooner than any expected. There seems to be nothing certain in this world but death and taxes.

THE ELECTION OF WORKS.

The election of John D. Works as United States Senator through the means by which it was accomplished was a bold disobedience and defiance of the statute law, a mockery of justice, a triumph of treachery, and, as a partisan political move, was devoid of common sense.

We withhold comment on the temperamental unsuitability of Works for the Senatorship, for his personality is not in issue, and is really of small consequence. The methods by which his election was obtained will hang around his neck like a millstone, and will paralyze his power in the Senate for service to California—it indeed he has any purpose of serving California, or of serving anybody except himself, and the Lissner gang, whose chattel he is.

For the information of those not aware of the details of the successful assault upon the good name and the interests of this State involved in the election of Works, The Times will briefly recapitulate them.

Two years ago the members of the California Legislature, in enacting a Senatorial advisory law, debated for days whether they would provide for a State-wide advice, or for advice by districts. They chose the method of advice by districts, and last fall Works and Lissner and their newspaper organs engineered the district advisory law, his Works, while canvassing the State, announced that unless he should carry a plurality of the legislative districts he did not desire to be elected Senator.

As a result of the election Mr. Spalding carried 70 and Works 40 of the districts, but on a count of the votes of the State at large—disregarding district lines—Mr. Works had a small plurality of votes over Spalding.

Thereupon Works and his organs—under the tutelage of Meyer Lissner—turned squarely around and demanded that the proposed law of the State-wide advice, which the Legislature refused to pass, should be followed in electing a Senator, instead of the law which was passed.

This shallow and sophistical plea has succeeded, and Works is Senator-elect. The Times was in hopes that good faith would prevail, and that Mr. Spalding would be chosen Senator in accordance with the advisory law. In this expectation it has met with disappointment. The result is deplorable, not merely because of the choice made for Senator, but because his election, which shows that Lissner is in the middle, forbids the passage of such laws as Lissner may require and the defeat of such measures as he may oppose. He is an unscrupulous, designing man and nothing but calamity can result from his rule.

His first considerable achievement as a State boss is the fraudulent making of a Senator who is not "built right" for the high place, who is an insurgent, and therefore not a Republican, and who has, by both book and crook, been set above a stalwart and regular, who was the real choice of the real Republicans of California who are "out and injured" by the tricky political deal made in the name of "reform."

RECORDS WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Some men take a great pride in performing original but asinine feats; some in doing spectacular but useless stunts; playing to the gallery is never out of fashion. One man breaks a record by walking a thousand miles in a thousand hours; another becomes famous by scaling unmapped peaks in the Himalayas mountains. Society people broke another record for the grotesqueness of a supper party; a merchant exhibits the biggest cheese in the world, an unknown individual succeeds in demolishing enough peanuts at a sitting to fill the stomach of an elephant and so becomes a man of mark; another, still lower in the scale, swallows more consecutive scoopers of beer than could be brewed from an acre of hops; another scaled the pinnacle of sublimity by trundling an empty wheelbarrow from New York City to Seattle.

All these champions win a temporary notoriety—such as it is—because certain newspapers are always ready to advertise any successful freak who has escaped the foot-killer. On the other hand sport and science, business and commerce are making useful records every day, without any braying of horns or blowing of bagpipes. These will live in the memory of the people long after the wheelbarrow-trundler and the peanut swallower have carried their dubious talents into some other sphere of uselessness.

One such record is made every day on the Owens River Aqueduct, a record of dogged purpose and quiet determination and ceaseless labor. Last year, according to Engineer William Meliboland, the work on the aqueduct, in spite of a temporary shortage of funds and an incident of fire, broke all previous records. In 1910 fifty-five miles of aqueduct were constructed, this being an excess of ten miles over the distance covered in the preceding year. From a close estimate the engineer has figured out that 4,500,000 yards of rock and dirt were removed in the last twelve months; while 200,000 barrels of cement were used in construction work, most of this material being obtained from the aqueduct's own cement plant.

Up to date 150 miles of the aqueduct have been completed, and now only $5 more miles remain to be dug before the melting snows of Mount Whitney can be completed up with the water mains of the Los Angeles householders. These figures may not be so entertaining to the sensation-seeker as the freak records of the eccentric individuals mentioned above, but they contain vastly more reflection food for the thoughtful citizen.

Judge A. Z. Blair, the Adams county man who is now in the limelight, was a Democrat until 1896, when he deserted Bryan, securing his first honors on the bench through Governor Bushnell who appointed him to fill the unexpired term of Judge Collins, also of Adams county. He secured considerable notoriety in his section some years ago when, as chairman of the Adams county Democratic central committee, the campaign fund disappeared. Blair claimed that he was robbed and lost the money.

A VANISHING VOCABULARY.

What will the colloquial speech of the future resemble if the shrinkage in our everyday vocabulary continues at its present rate? Has it ever struck the man of average education and intelligence how our conversation is gradually narrowing itself to one or two general verbs and adjectives and a few slang expressions? We mean the ordinary talk of ordinary people, especially in their social relations; for our modern writers are inventing new substantive verbs and adjectival nouns to a bewildering extent; but such new inventions are never heard on the lips of the men in the street and generally perish with the book or article which gave them birth. Of course, too, with the increase of scientific terms the dictionary is always growing larger; but we would draw attention to the poverty of language heard in the usual conversation of the majority.

One or two verbs in particular are so hard worked and put to so many strange uses that they have nearly lost their primal meanings. Take the word "fix" for instance—a little Latin word that crept into the language in the eleventh century. What a precocious child it has proved itself to be! Today there is hardly anything under the sun from a political election to a petition, from a prevarication to a leaky kettle, but is forever being "fixed." You will fix your neighbor if he does not fix his poultry fence; or to get your friend out of a fix you will fix it up with the policeman. If this word were abolished tomorrow, conversation would go halt and many speakers would be dumb.

The word "raise" again has crowded other more specific verbs to the wall. We used to rear or breed cattle, bring up our children, grow potatoes, increase the rent, find the necessary money; now all these things are simply "raised." The rule of the verb is fast becoming an exclusive oligarchy. Our conversational epithets are even more monotonous. "Cute"—a aliphabetical abbreviation of acute, another Latin word—is now the universal feminine adjective for anything that gives pleasure. The lion in the cage, the American flag, Jack's mustache, a mighty poem or a new hat are all "cute" without distinction. "Swell," with "classy" a close second, is the only rival for the almighty word "cute." In England, ripping and rotten run the whole gamut of the qualitative scale. Rotten indeed is becoming international. The London Punch once summed up the British vocabulary in the following conversation: "Cute!"—a aliphabetical abbreviation of acute, another Latin word—is now the universal feminine adjective for anything that gives pleasure. English Wool Gabardine Rain COATS

These handsome coats are really as much an all-purpose garment as a rain coat—yet they are perfectly water-proofed—as nearly water tight as a porous or cloth fabric can be made—and will not pucker at the seams.

The Wool Gabardine has warmth without much weight. It is a shapely garment—and exceedingly popular throughout the East.

We have excellent assortments, priced from $15 to $30. You couldn't find anything better for automobile wear—or for a general all-purpose coat.

Black Company in Portland, the Stanford Stock Company in Vancouver, and the Walker Stock Company in Winnipeg; was for two seasons stage director of the James Neil and Edythe Chapman's Stock Company, and comes to Los Angeles from the Lyric Theatre in Minneapolis, where he has directed the productions of that stock organization for the Shuberts.

Another recruit to the Belasco-Blackwood forces will be Hugh Dillman who will be engaged to play the juvenile roles in the Belasco productions. Mr. Dillman comes to the Belasco from the George Baker Stock Company in Portland and is recommended as a careful, conscientious and clever young actor. Previous to his engagement in Portland he was with Nativina, Otis Skinner, Robert Edison and several of Henry W. Savage's touring companies. His stock experience has been gained with the Davis Stock Company in Pittsburgh and at Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, playing three summer engagements with the Jessie Bonstelle Stock Company.

Robert Harrison, the new second man, comes to Los Angeles with the reputation of being a thoroughly intelligent and capable actor of several years stock experience. Through his best recommendation is the fact that he has just closed a successful engagement of five years with the Bishop Players at the Liberty Theatre in Oakland, previous to which he played for four or five years with Henry B. Harris's touring companies and with William A. Bray's organization.

Both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Dillman will make first appearances on the Belasco stage in about two weeks when the Belasco company will give the first production on any stage of Haydn Talbot's new play of the Southwest, "In God's Country," which is given by special arrangement with William A. Brady, who immediately after the presentation in this city will give the play with Dustin Farnum at one of the Broadway theaters.

"In God's Country" is in four acts, with its scenes located in a small town in Northern Arizona near the Utah line just before the passage of the Statehood Bill. The piece is essentially a man's play, and will show Lewis S. Stone in the role of Jeff Post, who has come from New York City half a dozen years before.

Walter DeLeon's musical play, "The Campus," seems to be the most substantial work. Ferris Hartman has essayed this year. The Grand Opera-house is doing circus business at all performances.

"MOTHER" BROWN ARRESTED.

Proprietress of Alleged Blind Pig Falls to Hide Contraband Liquor. Customer Falls Through Trap Door.

A "blind pig" was discovered yesterday at the residence of "Mother" Brown, in the rear of the San Gabriel Mission, by Detective Maehl of the District Attorney's office, and Constable Austin of Pasadena. The place was placed under arrest and will be tried today before Justice Klamroth of Pasadena.

This is the second time within three months that the resort conducted by "Mother" Brown has been raided. On the previous occasions she was found guilty and fined $150. It is said by the arresting officers that immediately after paying her fine she continued her illegal traffic.

When the detectives burst open the rear door of the shack, Mrs. Brown, it is asserted, attempted to hide several demijohns of brandy and claret in a drawer. The raffle of the drawers was heard by the detectives and before she succeeded they were upon her.

Detective Maehl opened a trap door and descended the stairs into a damp cellar. Austin promised to stand near the trap door to prevent it being closed and to prevent her from entering another portion of the house.

The moment he was gone, a Mexican known as one of "Mother's" most persistent customers happened into the room, and in the darkness, stumbled into the opening in the floor.

Maehl, who was ascending the stairs, was struck by the Mexican, and both frantically endeavored to extricate themselves.

Big Dig. HARBOR DREDGE STARTS ON TIME.

ROOMY CLAMSHELL SCOOP GETS BUSY IN CHANNEL.

Government Contract With Tacoma Company Starts by Proxy in Passages From Turning Basin to East Bay West—Preparations Under Way to Finish Breakwater.

With the active commencement yesterday of the work specified in the contract between the United States government and the Tacoma Dredging Company, another chapter in the history of the Los Angeles harbor enterprise has been entered upon. With this completion, which is promised within a year, a forward step will have been taken second only to the work of Uncle Sam himself on the great port of entry.

Specifically, the contract calls for the dredging of channels 200 feet wide and twenty feet deep from the turning basin to the east and to the west basins. The total material to be removed is about 2,200,000 cubic yards, which is to be taken out at a minimum rate of 60,000 yards monthly, for a consideration of $3,725 cents per yard. The total amount available for the purpose is $200,000, less the necessary office expenses.

In the work the Tacoma company will be represented by the Standard American Dredging Company of San Francisco. Work was actively commenced upon the channel with the clamshell dredge yesterday morning and will be energetically pushed, according to the local representatives of the company.

The present machine, which has a bucket capacity of six cubic yards, liquid measurement, will shortly be supplemented by a modern suction dredge, of the type of the inch delivery capacity, which is to be sent down from San Francisco within a few days. It is understood.

This nearly as large as the big machine which the company originally planned to bring down from Tacoma for the work is looked upon as in itself an assurance that the big digging will be carried through on schedule time.

Contractor W. S. Russell, to whom was awarded the contract for the completion to the shore of the government breakwater, over a gap of about 100 feet, is in the midst of active preparations for starting in, as soon as his contract is formally approved by Gen. Bixby, chief of United States engineers.

His own signature was attached and the document forwarded to Washington a week ago, so that there is every likelihood that the next fortnight will see the beginning of that part of the harbor work also.

The decision on the part of Lieut. Leads to carry out both sides of the main channel simultaneously, instead of by instalments, is prompted by motives of economy, both of time and money.

By taking the full 400-foot width of the channel at once, rather than two contract formations, it will be unnecessary to make the frequent shifting of machinery and delivery pipes which would otherwise be necessary.

The estimated yardage of this portion of the work is placed at 3,000,000 cubic yards, including the dredging to be done at the harbor entrance, which will account for perhaps 800,000 of it.

The question of the nature of the work to be done at the harbor entrance, which will be done at the harbor entrance, which will account for perhaps 800,000 of it.

Wenham, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bollinger, Mrs. Canfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. McCarthy of Orange, Cal.

SHERIFF READY FOR PRISONER

Wanted for San Quentin at Early Date.

Charles Attorney, whose Local was Has Been Tinged With ad for Several Years, Exhausted Legal Loophole in Frenzied case, and Will Be Taken North.

Danford, a red attorney, will be taken to remittitur to serve a term of three (or having forged a telegram, along himself of every technical law and selling upon every of legal fiction to keep himself jail, Danford has given the publishers the hardest fight they ever experienced in this county, but has taken his last stand in a fight at the hands of the highest court in the State, and the tribunal that had been given a fair that upholding had been justly a cruel and that he had no further consideration as to his

In the Superior Court which resulted in conviction. The case was appealed to the District Court of Appeals and the decision of the lower court was affirmed. As a last resort, Danford asked to have the case reviewed by the Supreme Court and it has recently said that no reason had been presented to it as to why it should so act.

The District Court of Appeals issued the formal order which was necessary in order that the prisoner might be removed to the penitentiary. The usual custom is for the County Clerk to immediately turn such remittitur over to the Sheriff, but this action had not been taken up to last evening.

Danford was arrested two years ago on a charge of having presented a forged telegram to C. J. O'Keefe. He was endeavoring to sell some bonds of O'Keefe and volunteered to have him telegraph to a bank at Telluride, Colo., to see if they were valid. The evidence was to the effect that the lawyer intercepted the outgoing message and that he dictated a reply, forging the name of a Telluride bank cashier. O'Keefe became suspicious and did not complete the deal for the bonds. He started an investigation which resulted in the lawyer's conviction.

Pullman Conductor Who May Be a Millionaire as Result of an Oil Land Sale Doesn't Quit Work.

From Pullman conductor to possible millionaire in three years is a jump which might cause some men to lose their heads. But it had no such effect on J. A. Hoopner.

Hoopner is considerably more than a few feet tall, and his upstanding form

In the lobby of the Hollenbeck for a number of years has drawn attention. At present it attracts more notice on account of a story which is going the rounds that Hoopner, with his brother, E. A. Hoopner, and L. R. McMurtry, sold 1250 acres in the Midway field to the Associated Oil Company for a reported consideration of $500,000, part cash and part stock.

Hoopner confirms the sale, but declines to divulge the exact amount. He laughingly states that he is too busy getting ready for his next trip on the road to think of the money and then gives assurance that he is still working as hard as ever, running on the Golden State Limited from here to El Paso, as he has for six years.

"It was McMurtry who told my brother about it, and my brother told me of a chance, a fluke, which we took and which has resulted profitably for all of us, more profitably than our widest dreams and speculations ever warranted."

"When the taking up of this Midway land was broached, there seemed to be a good chance for sale of the property at some future date as a farming proposition. We little dreamed of oil in the quantities which it has been found."

"In that way we took up claims to sections 26, 22, 24, 22 and 24, which are right in the heart of the district. Parts of these sections we sold a year ago, retaining, however, under a lease, a few weeks ago 1250 acres, which is the part we have disposed of to the Associated Oil Company."

If you have trouble in getting rid of your old you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no reason why a cold should hang on for weeks and it will not if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)
